

Peter J. HowleyDate of Death: 12/29/2016

Born in Keighley, Yorkshire, England, on July 13, 1940, Peter Howley immigrated to the United States in 1953, settling in Summit, New Jersey. When he was trying to decide whether to return to England to play professional soccer or finish his college degree, he went to a beach party in Point Pleasant, New Jersey and met the love of his life, Ann Marks. He decided to remain in the US, finish his degree, and marry Ann on August 13, 1966. Children Lara and Kevin followed. In 1968, he followed his brother Jack into public service, first working for NavAir and then joining the Agency for International Development. He found his calling working on various international development projects. From 1983-1987, he and his family went to Bangkok, Thailand on assignment, a life-altering experience. In 1990, he retired from AID to consult.